Nothing Like It for Run-Down and Nervous People.

Von Ormy, Texas—"I suffered from a general run-down condition—anaemia, loss of appetite and cough, so I was unfit for my work. I tried different medicines without help, and through my druggist learned of Vinol. I took it; my appetite increased, my cough disappeared, I gained in weight and I am now well and strong, so I can conscientiously endorse Vinol."—Viola Salada, R. N., Van Ormy, Tex.

We guarantee Vinol to build up run-down, anaemic folks or return your money. We take all the risk. To Anderson, druggist, Chattanooga, and at the best drug stores in every town and city in the country.—(Adv.)

MAIL SERVICE AVIATORS HAVE ROUGH EXPERIENCE

Meet Rain and Hail Storms While Thousands of Feet in Air, but Land Safely.

Washington, May 27.—The postoffice department authorizes the following: The aviators in the airplane mail service had their first rough experience with storms last Tuesday. Lieut. Stephen Bonsal, Jr., leaving Belmont field at 11:30 a.m. for Philadelphia, struck a severe electrical storm at an altitude of 12,000 feet and was lost to land. He skillfully rode against the storm, which was especially violent in wind and rain over New York and nearby New Jersey, but was forced to return to Belmont field. As the storm grew severe that part of the trip was abandoned and the mail sent by special courier to Washington on the train reaching there at 6:30 p.m.

Lieut. James C. Edgerton had an exciting experience all the way from Philadelphia to Washington. He left Philadelphia at 12:30 p.m. in thick clouds and soon lost all trace of land. The postmaster at Elkton, Md., reported him passing over at 1:40 p.m., indicating slow progress against a head wind of twenty miles per hour. Between Havre de Grace and Baltimore, a violent electrical storm accompanied by wind, rain, and hail. He pluckily continued right through the storm by compass, although the hail was pelting the plane and chewing the propeller, which had to be repaired at Washington. He passed out of the storm near Camp Meade, but had very cloudy weather until near Washington.

At an altitude of 10,000 feet, he began descent on a straight line just outside of Washington and made a beautiful landing at 3:04 p.m. His time from Philadelphia to Washington was two hours and thirty-four minutes, in comparison with one hour and twenty-nine minutes from Washington to Philadelphia on Monday.

Lieut. Walter Miller, whose plane was damaged en route from Philadelphia to Washington Monday, came from Havre de Grace to Washington on his repaired plane Tuesday morning, arriving at 11:15 a.m., and immediately changed planes and left for Philadelphia at 11:30, arriving there at 1:22 p.m. Miller missed the storm.

Two of the powerful Liberty motors will probably be in operation on the mail airplanes before the end of the week, which will be able to cope with these storm conditions.

Huns Admit Loss 5,000,000 Men Since the War Began

(Newspaper Enterprise Association.) Berne, Switzerland.—Germany's own military experts are only now beginning to admit that Germany's casualties since the war began exceed 5,000,000 men.

Karl Biebert, military writer in Das Neue Europa, gives the following statistical return of German losses in killed and prisoners only from Aug. 2, 1914, to July 31, 1917:

WESTERN FRONT.
1914	669,800
1915	713,461
1916	901,250
1917 (seven months)	320,450
Total	2,604,961

EASTERN FRONT.
1914	163,900
1915	629,400
1916	359,800
1917 (seven months)	261,250
Total	1,414,350

Grand total.....4,019,311
From Aug. 1, 1917, to Feb. 1, 1918, Biebert estimates the total losses on both fronts at 267,450, making a total of 4,286,761 for the period of the war. Adding those who died from illness or wounds and losses in colonial and marine fighting, the grand total, he says, considerably exceeds 5,000,000 men.

Dr. Lambert asked the public to appeal to the war department to rescind the rule which prohibits sisters of soldiers and the younger women going to the training and field zones back on the western front.

Maj. Lambert denied there is widespread suffering from infectious diseases among American troops in France, asserting that the percentage of cases is far lower than in the United States.

MRS. WALSTON GAINS 22 POUNDS

Had a Long Serious Siege of Rheumatism.

Troubles Gone Since She Took Tanlac.

North Carolina Woman Cannot Say Too Much in Praise of Medicine.

Among the thousands of well-known people who are daily testifying to the remarkable merits of Tanlac, no one is more enthusiastic over the benefits derived from the medicine than Mrs. L. F. Walston, of Macesfield, North Carolina.

According to her own statement Mrs. Walston gained twenty-two pounds and has been relieved of a serious and aggravating rheumatic condition through the use of Tanlac after other treatment had failed to help her. Her unsolicited letter to the Tanlac offices at Atlanta, Georgia is reproduced below.

Gentlemen—This is to certify that I have taken Tanlac with the best results. I suffered intense pain from rheumatism and had the doctors treating me for five months but got no better.

Some one told me to try Tanlac and I was surprised at the good it did. The first bottle seemed to relieve me, so I continued taking it until I was restored to health and now I feel like a new person. I have taken only eight bottles so far.

When I began using the medicine I weighed only 118 pounds and I now weigh 140 pounds and I cannot say too much for Tanlac.

You are at liberty to publish this as I wish every one who suffers with rheumatism could try Tanlac. Yours respectfully, Mrs. L. F. Walston. Tanlac is sold in Chattanooga exclusively by the Live and Let Live Drug Co.—(Adv.)
